About the course

This course aims to help learners understand, address and respond to climate change as individuals and in partnership with their communities and political leaders.

Act on Climate: Steps to Individual, Community, and Political Action

Reviewers say: easy to use, discussion-based

Used in 11 learning circles

ABOUT THE COURSE

This course aims to help learners understand, address and respond to climate change as individuals and in partnership with their communities and political leaders.

Topics
- computer science, programming
- provided by University of Michigan
- hosted on Coursera.org
- always available

Provider
University of Michigan

Platform
Coursera

Access
always available

Community feedback
- easy to use, discussion-based

Act on Climate: Steps to Individual, Community, and Political Action

4 ratings | USED IN 11 LEARNING CIRCLES

This course aims to help learners understand, address and respond to climate change as individuals and in partnership with their communities and political leaders.

Topics
- computer science, programming

Provider
University of Michigan

Platform
Coursera

Access
always available

Community feedback
- easy to use, discussion-based